

Financial Aid 2020-21 E-Bill Worksheet – New First Year

This worksheet is designed to help new students estimate what your balance due will be if you live off-campus for the 2020-2021 Fall and/or Spring terms. Enter information from your Financial Aid Eligibility Letter or from sources noted below. Please note that each student's account and charges are unique and this is only meant to provide an estimate.

Item	Fall	Spring
1. Deposit Amount (If Any)		$0
2. Billed Costs for On-Campus Study These include Tuition and Fees.	$39,348	$39,132
3. Other Individual Billed Costs These include Insurance charges , Juilliard Fee and other misc. fees .
4. Grant Aid and External Funding Total the grant, scholarship and/or benefit by term listed in the Financial Aid Details section of your most recent Financial Aid Eligibility Letter(August). Type the number in the appropriate term box to the right.
5. Estimated Balance Due on Columbia E-Bill for On-Campus study If this number is negative, that would indicate an estimated refund.

If you live off-campus for a particular term, please update the housing and meal plan costs below

6. Amount of Travel from Eligibility Letter This number will be in the Cost of Attendance Section of your letter. Please divide that number by 2 for the per term number.
7. Reduction in Housing and Dining Costs per Term These are standard amounts for freshmen room and meals.	$7,565	$7,565
8. Housing Allowance This is an amount that Columbia expects that you will need in order to cover remote study and other expenses while living at home.	$4,000	$4,000
9. Adjustment to Grants if Pursuing Remote Study Amount your grant will decrease by if you do not live on-campus
10. Estimated Balance Due on Columbia E-Bill for Remote Study

Notes

- Make certain all of your financial aid requirements are complete so that your aid will disburse on time.
- New York State Aid begins disbursing towards the end of October. If you anticipate receiving NYS aid, make certain your ETA is complete.
- Outside scholarships usually are applied to the student account bill, but there may be some scholarships that are given directly to the student. If the scholarship is given directly to the student, the scholarship amount should not be included in the amount of Grant Aid and External Funding.
- Outside scholarships are applied to the student account by Student Financial Services, and may be applied to terms differently than we have planned here.
- Aid that disburses later in the semester may delay the receipt of any anticipated refund.